DECORATIVE TORX HEAD

Torx Head Nail most of the same properties as the Keir Nail, except nails have a helical screw shank, and the nails are driven in to within 1mm of surface, and the final adjustment finished with a small torx wrench to give a perfect, flush and decorative finish.

The nails are made from V2A Stainless Steel, and are collated together on a plastic sheet belt.

Torx Head nails are fired through a pneumatic Max CN890S Coil Nailer, requiring a compressor.
